Mrs. McGrath's bakery establishment, on Main street, Tipperary, was entirely destroyed by fire. There were a number of narrow escapes.

The Crown have issued summonses against seven men in connection with the attack on T. W. Russell, M. P., at Dromore, on November 19, when he addressed a land meeting.

John Griffiths, a contractor, aged forty, residing at Wigan, met with a shocking death while following his employment. He had just removed a pump, when a large stone, weighing two tons, fell upon him and crushed him to death.

The Limerick County Council unanimously passed a resolution approving of the findings of Lord Dunraven's land conference and expressing the opinion that a land bill proposed on such a basis of settlement would bring peace and prosperity to Ireland.

Since its inception the Waterford branch of the Gaelic League has made very considerable headway and it is steadily progressing. The labors of its executive are not confined to class work merely, but they have provided many enjoyable intellectual treats from time to time.

The Queen's County Council have adopted a resolution approving of the recommendations of the recent land conference. The North and South Meath branches of the landowners' convention adopted a resolution emphatically endorsing the minutes of the convention dealing with the report of the conference.

A man named Mathew Moroney, father of eleven children, and who resided at Ballynash, County Limerick, was killed at Foyness. Moroney was a carter and was walking his horse into a shed to take a load of hay to a ship at Foyness quay, when the animal rushed and struck him with the shaft on the chest, killing him instantly.

William Duffy, M. P., was arrested in Galway on a warrant under which he was sentenced by the removers at Mountbellow to three months' imprisonment. He appealed against the decision of the removers, but inasmuch as the notice of appeal was informal it fell through. Duffy was in town on Tuesday and only returned home to Loughrea on that evening.

Co-operation seems very much in the air in the County Waterford, and creameries have recently been established at Cappoquin, Cappagh, Ballyduff and districts adjoining Dungarvan. Meetings in support of the co-operative movement were addressed by Mr. Moore and Mr. P. J. Hannan, and the people generally are displaying great interest in this important matter.

Sheriff Augustine Roche was the recipient of a handsome testimonial from his Cork friends upon the close of his year in office. They met at Leech's Hotel and presented him a magnificent and handsome solid silver candelabra. Letters from prominent men in all parts of Ireland were read, congratulating Sheriff Roche upon the dignity with which he held the office.

Owing to the disqualification of the Chairman of the County Council under circumstances connected with the now famous Tallow trials, a good deal of speculation is being indulged in in Waterford as to who will be P. T. Walsh's successor. The position makes a great demand on the time of the gentleman who occupies it—in fact, so much so that few business men ambition it. The names of Mr. Drohan, Chairman of the Carrick-on-Suir Union, and James Hayes are freely mentioned.

A shocking accident occurred at Bane railway station. An old man named Pierce Butler, a resident of the village, was bidding good-bye to a friend who was returning to college after his Christmas holidays, when he accidentally stumbled against the train just as it was getting into motion. Although the train was quickly pulled up he was shockingly injured. On consultation it was decided to amputate both arms, an operation which was successfully performed. The injured man remains in a very critical condition, however, and but little hope is entertained of his recovery.

The Waterford municipal elections this year occasioned a good deal of interest and resulted in the Labor party securing two additional representatives on the Corporation. The Council is steadily becoming more and more democratic. In former years the labor representation was extremely small, but the passing of the local government act and the extension of the franchise has largely changed the personnel of the civic body. A question of elevators in connection with the grain industry is responsible for last week's victory for the Labor party, and as years glide by it is evident that the working-men will have a large part in municipal affairs.

At the last Galway quarter sessions Messrs. John Roche, M. P.; John Lohan, Martin Finnerly and James Gilmartin appeared to hear Judge Anderson's decision in their appeal heard at Galway last October against the decision of the removable Magistrates. Michael Reddy, M. P., also appeared to hear the decision in his appeal against the sentence of four months' hard labor. The Judge said that conspiracy and boycotting were clearly proven against the defendants, but reduced the sentences as follows: Roche, four to three months; Finnerly and Lohan, three to two months, and Gilmartin, five to four weeks, the sentences to be without hard labor, but bail for good behavior. Reddy's sentence was confirmed.

RECENT DEATHS.

After a short illness of erysipelas Mrs. Katherine Jansen passed away Sunday morning at her home, 2629 West Madison street, leaving a husband and six children. Her funeral was largely attended at St. Charles Borromeo church.

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Ford, a highly esteemed woman of St. Cecilia's parish, will take place this morning at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Ford was sixty-seven years of age, and resided with her son, James P. Ford, at 2917 Cleveland avenue. She was a devout Catholic, whose death will be sincerely mourned by all who knew her.

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Gnadinger occurred Sunday afternoon from St. Vincent de Paul's church, of which she was for years a devout member. Mrs. Gnadinger was a woman prominent in German Catholic circles. She was the widow of the late Edward Gnadinger, and resided with her daughter and four sons at 631 East St. Catherine street.

The remains of Mrs. Alice Clary, who died Friday in Indiana, were brought to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Martin McGuinness, 712 East Chestnut street, and the funeral took place from St. Mary Magdalen's church. Rev. Father Gausepohl was the celebrant of the requiem high mass, and spoke very feelingly of the noble and Christian life of the deceased. A long cortege of mourning friends followed the remains to their last resting place.

Mrs. Catherine Schump, one of the best known German ladies of the eastern part of the city, died at the residence of her son, George Schump, Clay and Gray streets, last Monday evening. Mrs. Schump was eighty years old, but had lived in Louisville half a century. She was a lady of many Christian virtues. The funeral took place from St. Martin's church at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. The interment was in Michael's cemetery. May she rest in peace.

The cold hand of death was laid upon Mrs. Mary Riehl, beloved wife of Frank Riehl, last Friday evening. Only twenty-seven years old, she was just entering upon the joys of womanhood. Mrs. Riehl was the daughter of Matthew Enright, of 2226 West Walnut street, and was a woman held in high esteem by a host of friends. Her funeral took place Sunday afternoon from St. Charles Borromeo church, Rev. Father Raffo conducting the funeral obsequies.

Seldom has there occurred a death in Jeffersonville that caused more profound sorrow than that of Miss Maggie May Dixon, the bright and promising fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Dixon, of 629 Missouri avenue. Miss Dixon was a young lady of pleasing manner and was a favorite among a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Four weeks ago she was stricken with dread pneumonia, but hopes were entertained of her recovery until within a short time before her death. The funeral took place Tuesday morning from St. Augustine's church, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. John O'Connell. The church was thronged with people, who feel the deepest sympathy for the bereaved parents. May her soul rest in peace.

HAVE HILL HALL.

The Golden Rod Club, a social organization composed of well known young Irish-Americans of the Highlands, have secured Phoenix Hill Hall for March 17, and will celebrate St. Patrick's night by entertaining their friends with a grand hop and other amusements. All the rights have been reserved, thus insuring a select gathering. The tickets are now being distributed by the members.

Full skirts and very bouffant sleeves seem to be assured features of the coming fashions, together with sashes and fancy belts. We are to be as quaint and picturesque as possible with some of the old-time touches on our costumes.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

Division 2 will hereafter meet only on the third Friday of each month.

Following the installation of officers of Division 5 of Springfield, Ohio, a reception was tendered the County Board.

Division 1 of Jeffersonville has completed great preparations for their St. Patrick's day celebration. Look for particulars next week.

A lively contest is on in St. Paul between Divisions 1, 2 and 3 and March 17 will tell which has the most members, most friends and best hustlers.

Charley Obst hopes the Auditing Committee of Division 2 will be increased from three to ten. He has a "jug" of ample proportions for that number.

The reason the Hibernians will not give a more elaborate entertainment on Tuesday night, March 17, is that no suitable hall can be secured for that night.

Any Catholic society desiring new quarters should inspect Hibernian Hall. There are a few open nights which can be secured from County President Pat Sullivan.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Dayton, Ohio, celebrated the seventh anniversary of their organization last week at Hibernian Hall, the evening being spent in dancing and cards.

Buffalo Hibernians have selected Rev. Father Cronin, editor of the Union and Times, to preside over their monster Emmet meeting on the evening of Sunday, March 1.

The Auditing Committee of Division 2 had a fine time at Obst's bowling alleys Thursday night. They bowled all over the house and left a record that will last for some time.

The Hibernians of Providence will give a grand concert on the evening of March 17, the proceeds of which will go toward paying the expenses of the St. Patrick's day parade.

Division 1 and the Ladies' Auxiliary of Brainerd, Minn., held a joint installation of officers. After the services a musical programme was given, lunch served and dancing indulged in till a late hour.

A handsome gold medal, emblematic of all the principles of the order, was last week presented ex-State President C. J. O'Brien by the Hibernians of Minnesota, as a reminder of the love and respect in which he is held by those over whom he ruled with marked success.

The committee in charge of the movement for introduction of Irish history into parochial schools of Buffalo has been doing earnest and successful work and its efforts have been crowned with success in almost all cases. The pastors of the diocese, since the movement received episcopal sanction, have given it their hearty co-operation.

The initiation of a large class by the divisions of Dayton, Ohio, was held last week at Hibernian Hall. Henry McKenny, County President, presided, and many of the State officers were present. The class numbered thirty-five and the ceremonies were most impressive. The initiation was followed by a supper and a general social time.

The first initiation of the new year by Duluth Hibernians occurred last week at the hall of Division 1, when a large class had the two first degrees conferred. There were visitors present from surrounding towns, and State officers were pleased with the impressive work of the degree team. An enjoyable smoker followed the regular order of business.

It is stated that instead of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of America the order will be known as the Universal Hibernians of the world. Already the members of Australia have been accepted by the order in this country and recently a petition has been filed at national headquarters making provisions to accept the Hibernians of Great Britain and Ireland under the same head.

STARTS THIS MONTH.

Work on the new Ursuline Academy of the Sacred Heart, to take the place of the present institution on the Workhouse road, will start this month. The great increase in the number of pupils taught by the good Sisters necessitates larger quarters, and therefore a handsome and commodious structure will be erected and ready for the opening of the next school year. The building now occupied will then be used as a home for old and invalid Sisters of the order.

Do not be afraid of the sunlight and so pull down the curtains as soon as a bit peeps in. A proper amount of sunshine is very necessary to good health. We need the sunshine from outside and the sunshine of love in our hearts and homes to make us happy.
